CONFERENCE THEME: SUSTAINABILITY IN THE GLOBALIZED WORLD

INTRODUCTION

Malaysia is privileged to once again host this annual event which has become a permanent feature of the Technical Development Cooperation Programme for Asia and the Pacific (TCDPAP). Construction Industry Development Board (CIDB) in collaboration with Professional Services Development Corporation (PSDC) supported by Association of Consulting Engineers Malaysia (ACEM) and in association with International Federation of Consulting Engineers/FIDIC Member Associations of Asia Pacific (FIDIC/ASPAC) are honoured and privileged to cordially invite all member states to meet in Kuala Lumpur for TCDPAP Conference 2011.

With the theme: Sustainability in the Globalized World, this conference aims to establish an action-oriented networking and knowledge sharing session drawing on the participation from senior government officials, industry captains, society leaders and academic experts across various professional disciplines.

This conference provides the platform for meeting of brilliant minds over a 2-day period leading to creative, innovative and pragmatic approaches towards sustainability.

Numerous national-level experts from member countries of TCDPAP and ASPAC will be presenting the technical papers/case studies/success stories and hands-on examples on new approaches, solutions and mechanisms to achieve sustainable development.

Sustainability is advocated by both the governments and the private sector in tandem with their pursuit of economic development. In Asia and the Pacific region a growing interest in sustainability is evidenced by the establishment of “Green Initiatives” in Bangladesh, China, India, Indonesia, Iran, Korea, Malaysia, Myanmar, Nepal, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, Thailand and Vietnam.

In line with these initiatives, it is certainly time for a new world order for sustainable development to become the norm rather than the exception. There should be in place a concerted and conscious effort for sustainability to ensure the present generation meets their current needs without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs.

Towards this end, a review of key achievements, emerging trends and the way forward on sustainable development will be examined and deliberated with the view by member countries.

The Conference is a must for all professionals involved in setting policies and the future directions for a sustainable world in this era of globalization.

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

The objectives of the Conference are:

- To foster fellowship and partnership among member countries
- To share experience of member countries in strengthening consulting industry

THE ORGANISERS:

The Technical Consultancy Development Programme for Asia and the Pacific (TCDPAP)

Technical Consultancy Development Programme for Asia and the Pacific (TCDPAP) is a programme promoted by UN-ESCAP for developing consulting capabilities at National, Sub-Regional and Regional levels in the Asia and Pacific Region. The programme comprises 14 countries of Asia and the Pacific region as members namely, Bangladesh, China, India, Indonesia, Iran, Korea, Malaysia, Myanmar, Nepal, Pakistan, Philippines, Sri Lanka, Thailand and Vietnam.

Over the years TCDPAP has played an important role in developing cooperation amongst the countries in capacity building, developing consultancy opportunities and sharing of resources. TCDPAP also promotes collaboration and global partnerships.

Construction Industry Development Board Malaysia [CIDB]

CIDB Malaysia was established in 1996, a statutory body under the Ministry of Works Malaysia to coordinate activities of the construction industry. The objective of CIDB is to develop the capacity and capability of the construction industry through the enhancement of quality and productivity by placing great emphasis on professionalism, innovation and knowledge in the endeavour to improve the quality of life.

As envisaged under Construction Industry Master Plan (CIMP), CIDB is developing a good delivery system, the effectiveness of which relies on the competency of Malaysian construction human capital, efficiency of its construction technology, and sharpness of its construction business strategy to manipulate opportunities, both in the domestic as well as international markets.

Professional Services Development Corporation (PSDC)

The Professional Services Development Corporation (PSDC) is a Malaysian Government machinery established in 2002, to accelerate the capacity development of Malaysian professional service providers and prepare them for the challenges of liberalization and globalization. PSDC is poised to prepare the professional services sector in tandem with the changing global environment by way of developing, implementing and monitoring programmes which will enhance its international competitiveness.

Towards these goals, PSDC focuses on capacity building, international marketing, advocacy as well as being the information hub for the Malaysian professional services sector.

Wholly owned by the Minister of Finance Incorporated, PSDC is placed as an agency under the Ministry of Works, Malaysia.

SUPPORTING ORGANISATIONS:

International Federation of Consulting Engineers (FIDIC)

FIDIC, the Federation Internationale de Ingenieurs-Conseils (International Federation of Consulting Engineers) was founded in 1913. Today, it represents most of the private practice consulting engineers in the world. The federation is charged with promoting and implementing the consulting engineering industry's strategic goals on behalf of more than 86 Member Associations and Associate Members representing some 40,000 firms with annual revenues in excess of USD 230 billion.

FIDIC member firms endorse FIDIC's statutes and comply with FIDIC's Code of Ethics. FIDIC organizes training programmes, conferences and other events in the furtherance of its goals. FIDIC publications include information for consulting engineers, project owners and the international development agencies on widely used conditions of contract, client-consultant agreements and international best - practice publications, training manuals and guides.

FIDIC Member Associations in the Asia-Pacific Region (ASPAC)

FIDIC associations in the Asia-Pacific region are grouped together in a forum known as ASPAC. The ASPAC Secretariat is based at the office of Mr. Dennis Sheehan (ASPAC Chair) and provides the following opportunities for its member associations:

- A forum for the free exchange of information among FIDIC Member Associations within the Asia and Pacific Region, as defined by the Asian Development Bank's area of interest.
- Fostering the consulting engineering industry in accordance with the principles and constitution of FIDIC and encourage the formation of associations of consulting engineers where these do not exist in the countries within the region.
- Advises and makes recommendations to the Executive Committee of FIDIC concerning particular matters affecting the interests of consulting engineers in the region.
- Maintains dialogue with other regional organizations representing consulting engineering in the ASPAC region.
- Organizes meetings, seminars, and workshops as appropriate to disseminate information on developments in the region

Association of Consulting Engineers Malaysia (ACEM)

ACEM was established in 1963 with the primary objectives of:

- promoting the advancement of the profession of consulting engineering;
- providing a forum through which its members can consult and cooperate with one another on all matters of professional interest for their mutual benefit;
- promoting the professional interests, rights, powers and privileges of consulting engineers;
- providing a focal point for Government, Associations, professional bodies to consult and confer on matters related to the consulting engineering industry;

In addition, ACEM liaises with other professional associations, both locally and abroad, concerning issues of professional interests. ACEM is affiliated with the International Federation of Consulting Engineers (FIDIC) and the FIDIC Member Associations of Asia Pacific (ASPAC).
